

Feudalism in America

State Can't Lawfully Alien Your UnAlienable Property

Help STOP UnLawful PROPERTY TAX

Do you want:

- To know why the state does not have and cannot obtain lawful authority to alien your property for the creation or support of the state?
- Do you want to know why we have already lost one half of the purpose for the creation of the United States?
- Do you want to know what feudalism is and why we are living under it?
- Do you want to know why John Adams referred to feudalism as "civil tyranny?"

Dr. Dessie Andrews will explain how property taxation was instituted in the South after the "Civil War" or "War Between The States" or even the "War of Northern Aggression" as some call it.

Regardless we will discuss why none of these excuses for property taxation are lawful and binding upon the people. And it certainly is no excuse for property taxation in the northern states as they won the war. Right?

Michael Palma, has been studying the Texas Property Tax Code for over 10 years and will educate you on what it says and he is in the process of getting definitions to Tax Code terms from the Attorney General's office. It appears to Mike that property taxes do not apply to one's homestead.

John Whitehead, founder of the Rutherford Institute, will address the fact that we do not own property in America any more. He will also cover the impact of "eminent domain" when misused for mere monetary gain to the state. Examples of this misuse further illustrate how the state no longer views the people as property owners.

Ron Avery will prove that the state only has two sources of lawful authority to do anything and that both sources prevent the state from obtaining authority to impose the feudal system in America and therefore prevents property tax. He will also show why public education cannot fulfill its true purpose when it is funded by the very vehicle that destroys its purpose, namely property taxes. His discoveries are supported by his two trips to the Texas Supreme Court.

Russell Bennett of "Eliminate Property Taxes" on Facebook© will address the need to educate the people about the importance of property ownership to lawful society and the concern of his growing group that already consists of many who have been, or are now, involved in political campaigns.
